With reference to the notice reproduced on the reverse of this affidavit, I submit the following:

All records of any nature concerning the noted election and finances have been lost in Katrina, therefore I cannot identify the source of any deficits or the source of any loans or even if there are in fact any loans, open accounts, or deficit.

I have never held and do not now hold any public office whatsoever

Since the said election of October 28, 1999, I have not engaged in any fund raising nor received any contributions of any nature either in kind or in money.

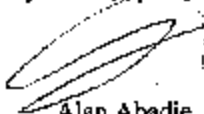

Since the said election of October 28, 1999, I have not made any expenditures of any nature including but not limited to:

- No payments of any nature on any loans, if any loans exist.
- No payments of any nature to on any open account. If any open accounts exist.
- No payments of any nature to reduce any deficit, if any deficit exists.

In consideration of the date of the election, October 28, 1999, all loans, open accounts, and deficits, if any exist, are more than 10 years old. Therefore the fact that no payment of any nature has been made on any loan, open account, or deficit since the said election and the fact there has been no activity by any grantor of any loan, if any loans exist, or holder of any open account, if any open accounts exist, to collect said loans or accounts means that under Louisiana law these sums have prescribed and are uncollectible.

Uncollectability by legal prescription is by operation of law and requires no action of any nature on the part of the alleged debtor and would have the same effect and result as forgiveness in that there is no longer any amount due or payable on any loan or open account.

Therefore there is no longer any Loans, open accounts or deficit concerning this election on which to report.
